What’s your legacy? It’s about more than money and wealth transfer!

How much is enough?

Tif joined with Genene Wilson to talk about legacy, leadership, success, purpose, impact, wellbeing and connection. They also talk about the value of education and financial literacy, and how the experience of working with a team of experts will improve outcomes for people across a range of areas of their life. Tiffany highlights some of the key trends she is seeing from her work with families.

Listen to the episode below: